Presenter's Biographies:

Ursula Wirtz, Ph.D., graduated from the C.G. Jung Institute Zurich in 1982. She has a doctorate in literature and philosophy from the University of Munich and a degree in clinical and anthropological psychology from the University of Zurich. She is on the faculty of the International School of Analytical Psychology (ISAPZURICH) and maintains a private practice in Zurich. She is the Academic Chair of ISAPZURICH's Jungian Odyssey Committee.

Dr. Wirtz is actively engaged in the training of Jungian analysts in Eastern European countries. She also has extensive experience as a team supervisor in a wide variety of institutions which work with trauma survivors (women's shelters, counseling centers for survivors of sexual abuse and the Holocaust, and the Swiss Red Cross Outpatient Clinic for the Victims of Torture and War). This has led to her numerous publications on trauma, spirituality, and ethics. She is a favorite keynote speaker at conferences worldwide and has taught at various European universities and abroad.

Peter Ammann, Dr. phil. is a founding member of ISAP, where he is also a lecturer, training analyst and supervisor. After having studied music (cello) and musicology, he entered Jungian studies, encouraged by Jung himself as well as by his analysts, Jolande Jacobi and Marie-Louise von Franz, and graduated from the C. G. Jung Institute Zurich in 1965. Pursuing his dream of becoming a filmmaker, he apprenticed with Federico Fellini for the making of Satyricon. His 1984 encounter with Laurens van der Post inspired his enduring interests in Africa, in traditional healing, and in integrating a Jungian perspective into his documentary films. He maintains a practice both in Zürich and Geneva. His documentaries include "Hlonipa – Journey into Wilderness", "Sandplay with Dora Kalff", "Spirits of the Rocks" and "Healing in Two Worlds".

Presenter's Biographies:

Deborah Egger-Biniores, MSW, is training and supervising analyst at the International School for Analytical Psychology in Zurich, Switzerland. She was AGAP President from 2001-2010, served on the IAAP Executive Committee from 2001-2007 and was a founding member of ISAPZURICH. She earned her diploma in Analytical Psychology at the CG Jung Institute, Küsnacht and her academic education previously was in the fields of religion, psychology, music and social work. Her writing interest currently focuses on marriage and adult relationship particularly with relation to the human soul and its intention. She teaches regularly on the topics of transference, developmental psychology, neurosis and the role of relationships in individuation. The mother of two grown children, she maintains a private analytic practice in Stäfa, Switzerland.

Ann Chia-Yi Li, MA, is a certificated Jungian analyst (2012). After studying Chinese Literature, American and English Literature in Taiwan, she had come to Switzerland in 2006 to pursue the study of analytical psychology in the International School of Analytical Psychology Zurich, Switzerland. She maintains a private practice in Zurich, and is a lecturer of ISAP. She is a member of IAAP, AGAP, and is a faculty member of ISAP Zurich, served on the Zurich Lecture Series Committee for two years (2013 and 2014) and on ISAP Program Committee since 2013. She is the founder of MuShuei.Jung Publishing Press, with the cherished desire to drive home to Taiwan the message of analytical psychology. She organizes Taiwan.MuShuei.Jung Annual Conference and Retreat, and travels between Zurich and Taipei. Her special area of interest falls in fairy tale interpretation, active imagination, and the relationship of Chinese philosophy, Daoist Alchemy and Analytical Psychology. She translated two Jungian works into Chinese: the documentary of C. G. Jung Matter of Heart directed by Mark Whitney, and the book Jungian Psychology Unplugged written by Daryl Sharp.

Presenter's Biographies:

Shiuya Sara Lih, PhD. a licensed psychotherapist in Taiwan, taught at TamKang University Graduate School of Counseling Psychology. She is the founder of Shihuli Memorial Foundation, which offers seminars and training programs in various psychotherapies in Taiwan. She is one of the founding members of Taiwan Jungian Association which has later become IAAP Taipei Jungian Development Group. She is a Jungian Analyst graduated from the International School of Analytical Psychology (ISAP) in Zurich, Switzerland. Her research interest is about "Modernity and its impact on Chinese psyche". Her last publication is "Chinese Modernity and Reading Jung" a chapter in "Why We Read Jung and How: A Collection of Scholarly and Personal Reflections" which is published by Routledge in 2013.

Education:

International School of Analytical Psychology. 2009-2014.

California Institute of Integrated Studies. USA, Ph.D. Psychology. 1993-2000

Erhard Trittbach, lic. theol., received his degree in theology and medical pedagogy from Fribourg University, Switzerland. He is a graduate of the CG Jung Institute Zürich as an adult and child psychotherapist and psychoanalyst. The title of his thesis was: „The meaning in trauma“. Since 1998 he works with children and adults in private practice in Zurich and Zug. He did further training in Active Imagination, picture interpretation, Therapeutic Sandplay (by Dora Kalff) and Supervision (certified). He is a Training and Supervising analyst of International School for Analytical Psychology and, for three years, had been the General Secretary and Vice President of ISAP. He had been the head of the Counseling Service of the gay switchboard, Zurich for 6 years. For 3 years he was member of the SGAP - board, the Swiss association for analytical psychology. His areas of interest include child and adult development, sexualities, trauma, the question of meaning, Active Imagination and Therapeutic Sandplay.
